WENT OFF WITH THE ENGINE

Bold Exploit of Texas Train Robbers.

They Cleaned Out All the Passengers.

Then Uncoupled the Locomotive and Used It as a Means of Escape.

AUSTIN, Tex., October 12.—This afternoon at 5.30 o'clock in broad, open daylight and within twelve miles of the corporate limits of the city, the southbound Cannon Ball train on the International and Great Northern was held up by four men and robbed. The conductor of the train, Tom Healy, was shot by the robbers while resisting them, but fortunately not seriously wounded. One of the passengers had his shirt collar torn away by a pistol ball that was aimed at his neck and another received a bullet wound in the hand.

The passengers were robbed of some $200 in money. The bandits attempted to rifle the safe in the express car but were unsuccessful.

When the train reached McNeil, a small station fourteen miles above this city, two heavily armed men boarded the train and took up their stand on the rear platform.

After the conductor had checked up the train he reached the platform only to find a pistol on either side of his head. The men demanded that he stop the train. He declined to do so and began to run through the train with the two robbers in close pursuit. He had not gone half the length of the first car when the foremost robber shot at him, bringing him to the floor with a pistol wound in the right arm.

At this juncture the other robbers pulled the bell cord and the train was brought to a standstill. It was evidently at the appointed place, for the train had hardly stopped before the other men, whose faces were covered with masks, stepped out from the trees and began shooting into the cars. Instantly all was confusion. The two men on the train were immediately joined by those from the woods and began their work. As the train porter sprang from the rear coach and ran for shelter, a robber began shooting at him and the negro emptied a revolver in return without effect.

The express messenger looked out of his car, and, taking in the situation, left his car and ran through the woods and was soon lost to sight. The robbers, in the meantime, leaving two men to guard the three coaches, which were packed with passengers, proceeded to the express car and demanded that the baggage man open to the express safe, but upon being assured that he could not do so, turned their attention to the passengers. They took only money from them, not overlooking a single cent and walking two by two through the cars, so as to always keep their eyes on all the passengers.

After securing about $200 in this manner, they uncoupled the engine from the train and started off down the track. After going several miles they set the lever at a moderate gait and left the engine, scampering into the surrounding country.

The engine came on to the flag station at Duval, four miles below, and was there captured and the station agent returned to the scene of the robbery with the engine, secured the train and came on to this city, arriving here shortly after dusk. Officers have gone to the scene with bloodhounds to locate the robbers. The two men who boarded the train at McNeill were not masked, but the other two bandits' features were concealed.

Masonic Grand Lodge Meets.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—The grand lodge of Masons of the state of California convened this morning at the Masonic Temple and was called to order by Grand Master T. W. Lucas. All the grand officers and about 400 representatives were present. The address of the grand master was read and referred to a special committee. It reviewed the work of the past year and stated that six new lodges had been established. The reports of the other grand officers were also read and referred. At the afternoon session Grand Orator F. E. Baker delivered an address. In the evening Oriental lodge exemplified the conferring of the second degree.

Latest From the Yukon.

SEATTLE, October 12.—The schooner Behring Sea arrived here today from St. Michaels, which place she left September 20th. The Behring Sea brings in no news of importance beyond what has already been reported. When the schooner left the Eliza Anderson expedition was preparing to start up the Yukon. The sensational stories about the threatened lynching of Mayor Wood of Seattle and D. K. Howard, manager of the Eliza Anderson party, are said to be without foundation.

Must Go Back to China.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—A great number of Chinese who arrived here last week on the steamer China failed to get their certificates properly vised by W. E. Hunt, the United States consul at Hong Kong, before he turned his office over to his successor. Mr. Hunt returned on the same steamer, so the Chinese will be obliged to return to China and be properly identified by the new consul there before they can land here.

The Baltimore Ready for Sea.

VALLEJO, October 12.—The cruiser Baltimore went into commission this afternoon with Lieutenant Gottfried Blocklinger, her first lieutenant, in command. The Baltimore will meet the Philadelphia in San Francisco upon the Philadelphia's arrival from Honolulu.

A Break-Beam Tourist Killed.

MODESTO, October 12.—George Moody, in jail for misdemeanor, was released yesterday, and late last night was killed by the Los Angeles express. He was riding on a brake beam, and was either thrown from his position by trainmen or fell off.

TWO VICTORIES.

Democrats Win Municipal Elections in Tennessee and Indiana.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., October 12.—The municipal election today resulted in an overwhelming defeat for the Republican ticket. Colonel Ed Watkins, Democrat, was elected by 902 majority. Colonel Watkins is a leading lawyer and promoter, and, the canvas being personal, attests his popularity among the people. The Democrats elected six out of the eight aldermen.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., October 12.—At 10 o'clock tonight the Republicans had conceded the election of Mayor Taggart (Democrat) by 5000 and the rest of the Democratic ticket by from 3000 to 4000. It is hard to figure gains and losses, on account of the recent changes in precinct boundaries. Ex-President Harrison's precinct shows a large Democratic gain, in fact the Democrats made heavy gains in Republican strongholds.

A TIMELY WARNING.

The Mails May Not Be Used to Extort Payment.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—August F. Merten, a member of the firm of Merten & Company, wholesale grocers, was arrested today, charged with having violated the postal laws. Mrs. M. A. Keller of Pleasanton owed the firm for groceries furnished, and being unable to collect the amount, Merten sent her a postal card upon the back of which was pasted a newspaper clipping giving an account of the arrest of a man for embezzlement. Underneath it Merten had written the words, "This case is parallel to yours." Merten was placed under bonds in the sum of $1000 to appear for examination when required.

A Stage Robber Identified.

UKIAH, October 12.—Charles Meyers, who was brought up on the evening train by Sheriff Johnson, and who is supposed to be one of the parties who held up the Booneville stage September 28th, and murdered J. R. Barnett, has been identified. John Crow, one of the parties who met the two men supposed to be the robbers just previously to the holdup, tonight said that Meyers looked like one of the outlaws. Sheriff Johnson determined to hold Meyers until tomorrow for further identification.

A Long Ocean Race.

PHILADELPHIA, October 12.—The tain clipper ships Tacoma, Captain Gaffey, and the Indiana, Captain Colley, sailed out of the Delaware breakwater this afternoon on a 10,000 mile race. Both are from Philadelphia, the former bound for Tacoma and Seattle and the latter for San Francisco.

A Veteran Senator Dies.

PENSACOLA, Fla., October 12.—Hon. Charles W. Jones, former United States senator from Florida, died at Detroit this morning after a sickness of several weeks. His remains will be brought here for interment Friday.

A FRIENDLY SUIT

The Crocker Estate and the Southern Pacific.

A Tangled Legal Skein for the Courts to Clear Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—An action at law, said to be a friendly suit, was instituted today by the Crocker Estate Company against Henry T. Scott and C. E. Green, executors of the will of the late Colonel Charles Crocker. The amount involved is $921,109. The Pacific Improvement Company is named as co-defendant.

According to the complaint there existed at the time of Colonel Crocker's death an account by which the Pacific Improvement Company acknowledged itself indebted to him in the amount named. After his decease the account was transferred by the company to the estate of Charles F. Crocker.

The complaint states that this sum really belongs to the Crocker Estate Company, being held by the deceased as a trustee, and that if the courts do not so decree the executors of Colonel Crocker may set up a claim for it. The complaint is sworn to by William H. Crocker, president of the Crocker Estate Company.

FIELD TO GO.

The Veteran Judge Gives in at Last.

Attorney General McKenna Will Probably Be Named to Succeed Him.

NEW YORK, October 12.—A Washington special to the World says: Associate Justice Stephen Johnson Field of the United States supreme court, has made formal application to President McKinley to be retired from the bench, under the law allowing members of that court to be retired when 70 years of age.

This statement is made upon the highest authority and also that Attorney General Joseph McKenna of California will be nominated to succeed him on December 6th, when congress convenes five days after the retirement of Justice Field takes effect.

Gonzales-Castro.

P. T. Gonzales and Miss Teresita J. Castro, both of Hanford, were married in this city Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Valdes on Merced street. City Recorder A. M. Clark officiated. The contracting parties are young people, and have many friends in Fresno. They will take up their residence in Hanford.

Judge Webb has set aside his decision awarding judgment to the defendant in the suit of W. J. Hayes against the Silver Creek and Panoche Land and Water Company. He has granted the plaintiff five days additional time to file a brief.

JUVENILE BURGLARS.

They Had Studied Dime Novels as Usual.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—Lewis Gibson and Thomas Burns, aged 16 years, were arrested early this morning while attempting to rob the safe of N. Bullerdick, hay and grain dealer at 1650 Mission street. They had forced open the outer door of the safe and were in the act of breaking in the inner door when caught by Officer Porter.

The boys had a miscellaneous collection of tools and other articles for their operations. They had two crowbars, a hatchet, hammer, monkey wrench saw, file and "jimmy," which Porter took possession of.

When searched at the Seventeenth street station a dime novel, "Life of Jesse James," the bandit, was found in Gibson's pocket, and he admitted having read a number of similar books.

Before attempting this burglary the boys visited the place of J. Schulker, 1630 Mission street, and had broken open his safe, but found no money.

New York, October 12.—Porter Bros. Company sold today:

Peaches—Salways $1 to $1.15.

An Unknown Assailant.

Last night about 1 o'clock a man named Will Hardin was struck on the top of the head and knocked down by an unknown assailant. He was walking along between "Congo" alley and I street on Mariposa street when some one ran out of a hallway and struck him. He was brained over the the right eye and it is presumed this resulted from his fall. Hardin was taken to the county jail and will be given a chance to tell his story today.

Afghan Frontier Troubles Settled.

SIMLA, October 12.—A dispatch from Mamund announces that the Jirga tribesmen have surrendered their Martini breech loading rifles and have solemnly sworn to maintain peace and drive out Umra Khan's followers. The troops forming the Mamund punitive expedition have destroyed twenty-six fortified villages and have killed many of the insurgent natives.

Wheat Shipments to Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—Heavy shipments of wheat to Europe continue. Over sixty grain laden vessels have left here during the last two months, and six more are ready to sail.

UNION PACIFIC.

A New Feature of the Consolidation Scheme.

The Fastest Through Service Ever Attempted to be Inaugurated.

DENVER, Col., October 12.—The latest feature of the Union Pacific consolidation scheme is one of great interest in Denver and to the country at large. It includes the consolidation of the Kansas Pacific with the Gulf road and a combination between the Kansas Pacific and the Missouri Pacific, whereby the fastest through service ever attempted between St. Louis and Denver will be inaugurated.

This was learned at the Santa Fe offices here this morning, where advices of the new move of the reorganization committee of the Union Pacific were received by wire from Omaha.

The Gulf road will operate the Kansas Pacific after the reorganization of the former road.

"FROM SIRE TO SON."

Excellent Representation Given by the Shaw Company.

Anyone who would not be satisfied with the manner in which the Shaw company put on the production of "From Sire to Son" at the Barton opera house last night must indeed be hard to please.

It was splendidly done from start to finish, and we doubt if the Shaw company has ever before given a more complete and satisfactory performance. The play is an interesting one at all times and it called for the full strength of the company, and several of the members appeared to splendid advantage.

Sam T. Shaw as Alfred Armitage, the reformed gambler, and Birdie De Vault as Mabel, his daughter, were especially good, and in two or three of their most important scenes they quite surprised their auditors with the splendid interpretation they gave to the parts.

Al Hallett as the gay and flirting Dr. Mandrake gave a good account of himself, as did M. J. Hooley as Peter Grimes, postmaster and express agent at Yuba. Harry Gilbert made a fairly good villain in the part of Jonas Hardy, the gambler, although that is hardly in his line, and here is where that clever actor Theaker Nicholson is missed. Jennie Kelton as Mrs. Waldanr had a very small part to play, that of a lady visiting in Venice, but she played it charmingly and looked very handsome and stately in her stunning red silk gown. The parts of Mabel Armitage by Alice Saunders, Mrs. Amanda Stocktup by Marie Howe, Aurelia Stocktup by Nellie Main Shaw, Hamilton Mandrake by William De Vault and Job Cadwaller by Albert Watson were well sustained characters.

The stage settings for "From Sire to Son" were pretty and appropriate and the costuming was all that the piece called for. "Why, it's worth the price of admission just to hear that orchestra play," said Frank Fiester, and I quite agree with him.

Tonight Robson & Crane's old fun-maker, "Our Bachelors," will be presented, and with the people Shaw has with him now he ought to do it better than ever before.

STEELE PENN.

A Freight Brakeman Killed.

ELKO, Nev., October 12.—Mark Wilson, a brakeman on the Southern Pacific, fell from a freight train near Battle Mountain today and was instantly killed. The body was horribly mangled.

SHERMAN TO SALISBURY

No Back Down by This Government.

Great Britain Charged With Breach of Faith.

Salisbury Had Agreed to Admit Russia and Japan to the Sealing Conference.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Secretary Sherman has written a reply to the note of Lord Salisbury, expressing Great Britain's declination to take part in a Behring sea conference in which Russia and Japan are to participate. The essential features of Mr. Sherman's reply have been sent by cable to the British government and the reply in full is now on its way to the British authorities.

Lord Salisbury's note of declination, it can now be stated, bore date of October 5th, last Wednesday, so that the response is made with promptness.

The answer states that the United States government views with surprise the determination of Great Britain not to participate in a conference including Russia and Japan and the statement is made that up to the 23d of last month United States authorities had fully expected that the conference would proceed with Russia and Japan, as well as Great Britain present.

It is pointed out that aside from the written correspondence to which Lord Salisbury has called attention, there were verbal negotiations between Ambassador Hay and his lordship, in which a specific reference was made to the participation of Russia and Japan.

At one of these verbal exchanges, it is stated, Lord Salisbury said he would advise with the officials of the foreign office concerning the subjects discussed, which includes the participation of Russia and Japan.

Subsequently, on July 29th, Ambassador Hay wrote to Lord Salisbury saying the President hoped to have Russia and Japan participate in the conference. In view of these circumstances the United States had confidently expected that Great Britain would take part in the conference and that Russia and Japan would be represented, with the approval of Great Britain.

GETTING WORSE

Yellow Jack Has Invaded Texas.

Trains Have Been Abandoned and Local Lines Stopped Running Entirely.

AUSTIN, Tex., October 12.—The most serious situation now confronting the people of Texas is the now almost complete blockading of travel, owing to the yellow fever scare. Many trains on all the principal lines have been abandoned and local lines have been stopped running entirely.

Both divisions of the Houston and Texas Central and the Southern Pacific are tied up most effectually tonight, not a single wheel moving, save in the extreme northern portion of the state. Every small town in the state is rapidly organizing shotgun quarantines. Trains cannot stop except at the big cities.

The situation in the entire state is highly panicky, and the feeling is one of growing alarm and apprehension. By tomorrow night, unless the situation is relieved, the great southern and central portion of the state will be practically without any railroad facilities, as all trains will be stopped.

GALVESTON, Tex., October 12.—The Board of Health issued an address today declaring the disease to be of a light type and stating that eleven cases have been reported all told and that these eleven are either recovered or convalescent. The first mail since Saturday night arrived today, three tons of it.

The principal lines are bringing freight into Galveston and being allowed to return their boxcars north, so the export business is progressing. No freight is yet allowed to go north. Free communication was established between Houston and Galveston today.

Dr. Guiteras has not been seen here since his return from Houston last night. He went out to the state quarantine station at the entrance of the harbor and spent the night. It was decided by the Board of Health today to be unnecessary to close the schools.

HOUSTON, Tex., October 12.—The city woke up this morning to find itself in quarantine with a declaration of the State Health Officer Swearing, based on the statement of Dr. Guiterns that four cases of yellow fever existed here. The public schools were not opened, and this fact created some alarm. Few trains left town and all were filled. The cases have been promptly isolated.

THE BEARS WIN

Wheat Takes Another Heavy Tumble.

December Declines to 85¾ Under Free Liquidation—Holders Undismayed.

CHICAGO, October 12.—Wheat was quite weak at the opening, December, which closed yesterday at 91¾@91¾c, starting today at 90¾c@90¾c.

The government statement in its October report that the estimate of area and condition of wheat was withheld pending special investigation was given a very bearish construction by the trade. It was taken as notice that the previous estimate of area was to be increased. This and the weak tone at Liverpool, which opened from ⅛ to ⅜d lower, together with the local decline in corn made the trade bearish.

Despite the weakness in Liverpool, the French markets were firmer, and there were indications of continued French buying at the seaboard. The northwestern receipts showed a marked falling off. Duluth and Minneapolis received 1267 cars against 1669 cars a week ago and 1433 cars the corresponding day last year.

Notwithstanding the bearish temper of the trade, the market declined very slowly. It even sold up a trifle shortly after the opening, December advancing to 90⅞c to 91c. By 11 o'clock it was selling around 90c. As the day advanced, however, it became decidedly unpleasant for holders of wheat.

Bradstreet's statement showed an increase from the world's visible supply of 8,212,000 for the week, where an increase of not over 3,000,000 bushels was expected. This caused renewed selling, December declining to 85⅝c under decidedly free liquidation. The Liverpool closing was 3/10 and 1d lower than yesterday, and the continental markets, which had been strong at the call, closed with slight declines. There was nothing in the day's record of wheat movement to discourage a holder.

Primary markets received 1,319,000 bushels against 1,540,000 bushels a year ago. The Atlantic exports equalled 770,000 bushels. New York reported export engagements of 50 boat loads. After the effect of the Bradstreet statement had been spent the tenor of the news seemed to change. There were denials that the Argentine drought had been broken and renewals of the assertion of damage by locusts.

Corn was very weak on account of the government crop report. This indicated a total yield of 100,000,000 bushels more than the trade had estimated. There was a partial rally late in the session in sympathy with wheat. December ranged from 28½c to 27¾c, closing ¾ lower at 27⅝c to 28c.

In oats the government report was the most influential feature and was mainly responsible for the decline in prices and caused liberal selling. December ranged from 19¼c to 18¾c and closed ⅜c lower at 19c bid.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—At the meeting of the Yosemite committee today John F. Sheehan tendered his resignation as secretary and treasurer, to take effect on January 1, 1898. His resignation was accepted and J. H. Larned, a law clerk in the office of W. W. Foote, was appointed to succeed him.

The Tuolumne River Bridge.

LUETGERT ANGRY

Does Not Like His Guilt Asserted.

The Accused Sausage Maker Has His Day in Court Today.

CHICAGO, October 12.—Assistant States Attorney McEwan finished his argument in the Luetgert trial today and Attorney Phalen will make the opening address for the defense tomorrow. Mr. McEwan took the entire day with his argument and went over the case carefully connecting the details of evidence for the jury, showing how one circumstance fitted into another, and how the whole mass of evidence submitted by the state furnished, in his opinion, a full and complete circumstantial chain, proving that Luetgert had murdered his wife in order that his relations with his servant girl, Mary Siemmering, might remain undisturbed.

Throughout the entire argument Luetgert listened to the state's attorney, who was asking for his life, with the greatest attention. He never took his eyes off Mr. McEwan for more than an instant, and the heavy scowl that is habitual with him deepened as the assistant state's attorney pointed out circumstance after circumstance that weighed against his innocence. It is now practically certain that all of the arguments will be finished so that the case will be given to the jury by Saturday night at the latest.

Hour after hour the assistant state's attorney continued to discuss the evidence in the case and to comment upon the conduct of Luetgert and Mary Siemmering both before and after the disappearance of Mrs. Luetgert.

Tomorrow Attorney Phalen will open for the defense. He will speak all day and possibly part of Thursday. Then ex-Judge Vincent will speak a day and a half in closing for the defense. State's Attorney Deenen, who is a remarkably rapid speaker, will close the case on Saturday, speaking the entire day.

A Ship Without a Captain.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12. — The American ship Invincible arrived today from Cape Spencer with 37,472 cases of salmon for the Alaska Packers' Association. When the vessel was a few days out Captain Howland was stricken with paralysis and Chief Officer Chipper brought the vessel into port. The captain was brought ashore as soon as the Invincible came to anchor and was taken to his home.

THE REPUBLICANS' games with the Baltimores and All Americans will advertise the name of Fresno all over the United States.

THE Examiner-Journal combination says it is quite aware of the rank illegality of its action in aiding the Cisneros girl to break jail, and snaps its fingers at the comity of nations. How daring the yellow reptiles are! They will try to "make hell pop" next, and then—well, let us hope Satan will get them.

THE New Mexicans are stuffing the census in the hope that a big showing of population will make it easier for their territory to be admitted to statehood. If New Mexico had twice the kind of people it has now it would not be fit for statehood. The predominance of the native element should be overcome before its appeals for statehood are given ear.

IT was given out by the representatives of San Joaquin county at the citrus fair held in Fresno last year that Stockton would give a citrus fair in 1897. If Stockton is still of the same mind, it would do well to begin arranging for the event at once and give notice to Fresno, Kings and Tulare county of its intention. If the undertaking is too big for it, let it make way for Tulare or Kings county.

IT is intimated by a number of Democratic organs that if Henry George succeeds in being elected mayor of Greater New York he will be the "logical candidate" of the Democrats in 1900. If there is so much logic in this, then there is an equal amount in the statement that if George is nominated in 1900 it will be because the Democrats have abandoned the free silver issue and returned to their first love—free trade.

WILL the Chamber of Commerce and the Hundred Thousand Club take up the matter of providing Fresno with a handsome and spacious building which may be used as an exposition hall as well as a place in which to hold conventions? With such a building nothing would prevent Fresno's becoming the convention city of California, and in addition to this it would have an appropriate and convenient place in which to display the products of the county and valley.

SECRETARY OF STATE BROWN, who has just returned from an official trip to the Preston school of industry at Ione, says that institution is in a deplorable condition. The employes are constantly wrangling with the superintendent and there is a total lack of discipline. In addition to this the books of the school are four months behind. This is one of the institutions "pot-housed" by Governor Budd and it is going through the same experience as the Whittier and Agnews institutions. Next we shall hear from Stockton.

BIG BASEBALL EVENTS.

When the FRESNO REPUBLICANS give the people of Fresno the opportunity to see baseball played by such teams as the Baltimores and All Americans, the least enthusiastic must admit that the efforts put forth to promote the national game here has not been in vain, whether the Examiner trophy is won by the local team or presented to the Alamedas.

Any crank worthy of the name would willingly walk to San Francisco if necessary to see the playing of these great Eastern teams, but they will not have to make the journey to the metropolis for that purpose. They will enjoy the glorious privilege of seeing them upon our own grounds, where there will be plenty of standing room for those who cannot get seats. The dates of these games will indeed be red letter days for baseball in Fresno.

The REPUBLICAN and all others who have stood by the local team will feel that they have been amply repaid for the encouragement they have freely extended.

AN Examiner Havana dispatch says:

It is not likely any demand will be made on the United States for the surrender of the prisoner or her deliverers. They all realize that the people of the United States would never give up Evangelina Cisneros to the Spaniards, even if the United States government were disposed to do it.

It may be that the Spanish government will not demand the return of the abducted prisoner, or if it does that the grounds upon which the demand is based will not require this government to accede to the demand, but all those who "realize" that this government would not be able to perform its duty as prescribed by the agreement between nations affecting cases of this kind, would, in the event of such an issue, realize that they are very much mistaken. The time has not yet come when the government of the United States is unable to perform its duty as it sees it, the opinion of yellow journalism to the contrary notwithstanding.

JUDSON D. GIBBS, assistant cashier at the custom house in San Francisco, has been removed, and the reason therefor, it is whispered, is that he concerned himself too much with pugilisticans. What does this effete administration expect of its employes? Mr. Gibbs has a profuse reputation as a promoter of pugilism. Does the administration expect him to neglect the noble art and devote himself exclusively to the service of the government? Alas! we have fallen upon evil days. Surely Secretary Gage is a light weight.

THE next new thing in bicycles is to be a pneumatic hub and solid rubber tire. It will have all the advantages of the pneumatic tire with the liability to puncture eliminated. The importance of an easy-riding bicycle with a puncturaless tire cannot be overestimated as a source of moral development. It will remove from a sinful world one of the chief causes of soul-destroying cuss words.

SERE AND YELLOW JOURNALISM.

What is the meaning of the very respectful, even fulsome, article that appears in this morning's Examiner upon Mr. Claus Spreckles? It lauds him as a public spirited citizen and philanthropist. It tells how his money and example secured the construction of the Valley road, and how he is now serving mankind by fostering the colonization schemes of the Salvation Army. What does this signify, we inquire again? But yesterday the monarch was publishing that Mr. Spreckels was a robber, or worse than that, a base cheater, who was filching the money of men owning stock in an enterprise which he controlled. Some lawsuits began by Mr. Spreckels, and pertinaciously adhered to, may have significance in this connection. But it looks strange to see Mr. Spreckels' face beaming from the pages of the Examiner, out of a halo of the most positive adulation that that journal's gifted writers can compile.—Alameda Argus.

It is simply another illustration of the methods of yellow journalism—the utterly conscienceless and indecent abuse of men and institutions for the lust of sensationalism or worse, followed by cowardly retreat when the person attacked happens to have the means as well as the disposition to fight guerilla journalism. The sensational, bulldozing newspaper has had its day. It is still yellow, but the sallow hue is of the sere and yellow leaf. The public, understand it now, and its power for evil is waning. Its vicious bluster no longer excites fear, but contempt and derision.

WE observe that the Board of Supervisors has granted a license to sell liquor to Hunault & Rochon, at whose saloon, a few weeks ago, a man was beaten to death by an employe at the place. The supervisors required no information regarding the character of the resort, for there is not a member of the board who does not know all about it. How, in the face of this knowledge, they could bring themselves to grant a license to Hunault & Rochon is something that passeth understanding. We also notice that there is a petition before the City Board of Trustees asking for a liquor license for the Circle Bar saloon. This is another notorious resort, and it is to be hoped that the trustees will be less liberal in the matter of licensing places of this character than the supervisors. There are a number of saloons in this city that should be closed, and if the authorities acted with vigor it would not take them long to accomplish this desirable result. No saloon in which there is illegal gambling, which is disorderly and in which persons have been robbed or murdered should be permitted to keep its doors open. All these dead-falls should be wiped out.

IT doesn't rain much down San Diego way and the dust gets pretty deep during the course of the dry season, which is most of the time. The story that a man was smothered to death in the dust down there the other day is vouched for. He was carrying a pretty good load of native wine, and toppling over under the burden his head was buried so deeply in the dust that he died, like the deacon's lamented cow, for want of breath. The report that children are frequently lost by dropping out of sight in a chuck-hole full of dust is probably an exaggeration, but the general statement that there is dust in San Diego will not be doubted. It would seem to be advisable to either sprinkle the roads or practice total abstinence in a country of that kind.

THE Board of Supervisors are improving. They recently ordered a fence put around the county hospital.—Modesto Mercury.

That may be a sign of convalescence, but doesn't the building of that fence indicate that they do not expect to give the cold shoulder to their comfortable infirmary for some time at least?

RANDOM REMARKS.

Elderly Person—Talk plainer, boy. Why do you chew your words so?
Boy—'Cause I'm hungry.

Luntgert, who boiled his wife in a sausage vat, says he will show in the dime museums of the country in case he is acquitted. He will also display the vat. Luntgert dangling from a gallows would be a much more agreeable spectacle.

A New York boy who was kept from going to school took the matter so much to head that he went crazy, and now the doctors are going to examine him. There certainly must be something constitutionally wrong with a boy who is so anxious to go to school as this New York lad.

Colonel Hall, commanding officer at Fort Sheridan, thinks it perfectly proper to drag a soldier 630 yards for disobeying the order of a superior officer. It is also right to prod him with a sword as Captain Lovering did Private Hammond. The Halls and Loverings will make the army a decedly popular institution if they are given full sway.

Professor Moses of Berkeley recently lectured in San Francisco on the economic situation in Japan, and gave considerable attention to the lack of commercial morality in that country. This prompted the Chronicle to remark that the Japanese might with equal truth reflect upon the commercial immorality of the people of western nations. Commercial immorality is confined to no nationality. It may be somewhat worse in Japan than it is in America, but it is certainly bad enough here. Professor Moses is invited to come to Fresno and buy a "chicken" tamale; then let him open it and see what he got.

When the Berkeley students had their rush a few weeks ago and one of the young men was severely injured there arose a chorus of indignation all over the state and such brutal fun was severely condemned. A man who had attended an eastern university wrote to a San Francisco paper what charming social "functions" college rushes are on the other side of the great river, and deplored the manner in which they were conducted in crude California. Before us is a copy of the New York Post, giving an account of the rush at Harvard on October 4th. It says:

"It remained for the class of 1901 to reintroduce the "rush," and they did it with a vengeance last night, driving the sophomores before them in their impetuous advance. A harder, fiercer contest has not been seen at Harvard for years. Fortunately, there were no serious accidents, and, aside from scores of black eyes and heaps of torn clothing, little damage was done."

Those effete easterners have certainly mastered the gentle art of rushing. "Little" damage was done aside from scores of black eyes and heaps of torn clothing!

YELLOW JOURNALISM IN 1900.

Following is the announcement of a yellow journal of the year 1900:

"In our Sunday supplement we will furnish to our patrons the following interesting reading:

"How the special confidence man of this paper (the Saffron Sewerbird) bunkoed the President of the United States.

"How our commission of jail breakers rescued Durrant, whom we know to be as innocent as an unborn babe, from San Quentin.

"The clever manner in which our squad of incendiaries reduced the buildings of our esteemed contemporaries to ashes.

"Our seducer-in-chief gives some spicy information concerning his victims.

"How our train-wrecker wrecked one of Uncle Collis' excursion trains, causing the death of 305½ persons.

"How we poisoned the water of the miserable Spring Valley Water Company. One ton of 'Rough on Rats' was used.

"The Sunday after we hope to give a startling account of the assassination by our special corps of bomb-throwers of the Czar of Russia. We have decided that he is unworthy to reign and he's got to go. We also hope by that time to have embroiled the United States and England. If this government won't embroil, then our high commission of revolutionists will set to work to overturn it. We're tired of republics anyhow. Now is the time to subscribe!"

Jonquin Miller's Last Letter This Season.

DAWSON CITY, September 12, 1897.

DEAR EDDIE: It is getting very cold and I had to shave, as the hair in my whiskers froze and broke off. This is a tough country. The women are bad and the whisky is worse. Your yellow fin signs are all over the country, and everybody is waiting for the opening of your Dawson City branch of the New Palm Garden, "Klondyke's leading resort." with Fritz Pantech as manager. I wish I had some "Robin Hood." No more this season.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Barbarous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at present time and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigesting is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken, in other words the starvation plan is by many supposed to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for dyspepsia has been proven time and again, but still the moment Dyspepsia makes its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting or starvation to a man suffering from Dyspepsia, because Indigestion itself starves every organ and every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the Dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of Dyspepsia, in other words the patient eats plenty of wholesome food and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it for him. In this way the system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3000 grains of meat or eggs.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the purest and safest remedy sold for stomach troubles and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. Sold at 50 cts. for full sized package at all drug stores.

You can't cure consumption but you can avoid it and cure every other form of throat or lung trouble by using One Minute Cough Cure. Dr. C. Paddock, druggist, 1720 Mariposa street.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Ranger of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. SALES WERE TOO SLOW

Chaddock & Co. Suspend Business.

A Satisfactory Adjustment Expected.

Could Not Move Their Raisins Fast Enough—Temporary Embarrassment.

Chaddock & Company, the raisin packers, yesterday morning suspended business temporarily, and closed down their houses in Fresno, Fowler and Armona. Their inability to dispose of the goods as fast as they were purchased, resulting from the strong bear movement in the East, caused the firm to become embarrassed financially. Seeing that it would not be able to meet its obligations any longer, the company decided to suspend operations.

The firm has had faith in the prospects of the market, and was confident that the movement of Eastern jobbers to break down prices would be defeated. It still entertains the same opinion, but expected that the demand in the East would assert itself sooner. The company has been buying raisins freely at the higher prices.

E. G. Chaddock, the head of the firm, was interviewed last night by a REPUBLICAN representative, and took a very hopeful view of his embarrassed situation. "Our creditors will meet with us at our packing house today at 10 o'clock," said Mr. Chaddock, "and we expect to adjust affairs so that there will be no loss to any one. We intend to settle dollar for dollar, and we can undoubtedly do this, I think, if our creditors will give us a little time. And I have reason to believe that they will do this. The money we owe growers will not amount to over $8000, and we shall be able to clear every liability if the creditors will all treat us fairly.

"We have not been conducting our business on a losing basis. We had sold all the better grades before making our purchases. But the lower grades, the 2-crown and seedless Muscats and dried grapes, could not be moved promptly without cutting prices. This we decided not to do. It would have broken the market, and the sales we had already made would be rejected and we would suffer thereby.

"We stored about ten car loads of these goods and hypothecated them, borrowing about half of the amount invested in them. Where we would have $4000 worth of raisins we would obtain loans of only $2000. So you see we would have $2000 tied up.

"We have the goods and plenty of assets, but the need of cash is what embarrasses us. Our supply of money gave out and we could not carry on our business any further. We could not make sales and realize money promptly enough to meet the demands on us.

"Now if our creditors will give us time so that we can dispose of the goods we are loaded with, there is no reason why anyone should suffer losses. Our principal backers are not seriously alarmed, and we are very hopeful of arranging matters satisfactorily."

The firm of Chaddock & Company is composed of E. G. Chaddock and his sons, John L. and E. L. The Fowler and Armona houses are operated by the Home Packing companies, being controlled by corporations in which the Chaddocks are the principal shareholders.

The difficulties of the company came at a critical time in the raisin situation, and for the interests of the business generally it is to be hoped that the firm will be able to tide over the serious period. A failure would work to the benefit of the bears. Chaddock & Company have done much to uphold prices this season, and for the interests of all concerned it would be gratifying to have them effect a satisfactory arrangement with their creditors.

It is to be expected that this will be done. The firm is not in such serious condition, according to Mr. Chaddock's statement, that anyone need have alarm. No attachments have been sued out, and no one has made a decisive demand on it. The company saw that it could not continue without seriously jeopardizing its business, and it wisely took the course stated.

PATTERSON ACQUITTED.

He Gets Out of His Scrape in Madera County.

The second trial of Jack Patterson, charged with grand larceny in having taken a ten-dollar bill from the pocket of Thomas Jones at Fresno Flats on the evening of August 5th last, was begun and ended on Wednesday, the defendant being acquitted after ten minutes deliberation by the jury, says the Madera Mercury.

At the former trial of Patterson the jury failed to agree, standing eight for acquittal and four for conviction.

The jury was secured by 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The taking of testimony was immediately begun and by 5.30 p.m. all the testimony and arguments by counsel had been heard. The people presented a very strong case against Patterson, but fortunately for him his counsel, E. S. Van Meter, succeeded in breaking down the testimony of Walter Dick, who swore that he had seen Patterson take the bill from the pocket of Jones. At the preliminary examination young Dick, who is about 12 years of age, testified that Patterson took the money from Jones' right hand pocket. At the first trial his testimony was the same, but at the last trial he was positive that it was taken from the left hand pocket. The change was undoubtedly due to the fact that the district attorney unwittingly led the boy astray by asking him to illustrate how the money was taken, and the boy made the fatal mistake of putting his hand in the wrong pocket and then swearing that that was the pocket. This created a reasonable doubt in the minds of the jury, therefore the acquittal.

Patterson is the individual who keeps a notorious resort about two miles southeast of this city.

GIRLS AT DRILL.

Youthful Amazons From Santa Cruz.

Their Difficult Evolutions Delight a Large Audience at the Armory.

The performance at Armory hall last night by the Young Ladies' Drill Corps of Santa Cruz was a pleasant surprise to those in attendance, as the perfect marching and difficult evolutions performed by the young ladies made a very interesting entertainment.

The members of the club are all young misses between the ages of 15 and 17. Last night they appeared in uniforms of dark blue. They wore short skirts, brown leggings and white collars, and their appearance was very striking, both individually and collectively. At the sides of the young ladies dangled swords, which came into play during several drills.

The corps is composed of twenty-two young ladies and this number was sufficient to make a good showing. Captain Anna Thomas, in command of the corps, gave her orders for the various evolutions in a manner that indicated her fitness for the position, and the members responded in a way that would please the heart of a drill master. Music was furnished by the Fresno orchestra.

The members of Fresno's two militia companies propose to take the young ladies for a drive through the colonies today in return for courtesies shown the militia boys while in Santa Cruz.

The drill corps is under the chaperonage of Mrs. Eva Simons and consists of the following young ladies: Captain Anna Thomas, Lieutenant Grace Whiting, Lieutenant Gertie Capel, Laura Stofer, Lizzie Stofer, Carrie Parkham, Gussie Moore, Rose Huin, Blanche Harte, Thirza Sinkinson, Ethel Bartlett, Bessie Gracelon, Anna Metzler, Lois Simons, Pearl Britt, Ella St. Clair, Millie McPheters, Irma March, Florence Peck, Tiny Hubble and May Veach.

At the conclusion of the drill last night all who desired remained and enjoyed dancing for several hours.

The Wild, Woolly West.

W. D. Hamilton Jr., a young Scotch gentleman who is visiting Colonel Treyelyan at the Barton vineyard, had a slight taste of life in the wild west as he came across the continent by way of the Canadian Pacific railroad. He stopped off at a place called Banff, in the heart of the Rockies, and while taking in the scenery on a lonely road was held up by three Indians. One of them demanded $3, emphasizing the situation by drawing a knife across his own throat as a hint of the consequences of refusal. A stout American backwoodsman came up in the nick of time and the Indians decamped in haste.

LET CRANKS "REJOICE"

The Baltimores to Play in Fresno.

Will Cross Bats With the "Republicans."

The All Americans, Composed of League Players, Will Also Appear.

Manager Gill of the Fresno Athletic Park Association has made arrangements to bring two of the greatest baseball teams in the United States here to play against the REPUBLICANS.

The Baltimores will play here on Saturday, November 6th, and the great All Americans—the pick of the National League—will try our boys on Thanksgiving day.

These two contests are events of greater importance in baseball circles than the average Fresno crank ever dreamed of seeing in this city, and Mr. Gill deserves great credit for his enterprise in securing them.

Next Sunday the public will be treated to one of the best exhibitions of the national game seen in Fresno this season. The famous Bushnell Alerts of Alameda will cross bats with the FRESNO REPUBLICANS, and our boys will show the "fans" what they can do with the gentlemen from the coast when honest decisions take the place of the "Gegua-O'Neill kind."

Tomorrow the REPUBLICANS will play an exhibition game in Selma for the purpose of giving the people of that town, who contribute to the team's support, an opportunity to see them in war plumage.

On Friday they will practice at home, and on Saturday they will take things easy and wait for the morrow.

The tournament games to be played next Saturday and Sunday at San Francisco are as follows: Saturday, Santa Claras vs. California Markets; Sunday, Will & Fincks vs. Santa Claras. The chances are that try as they will the Santa Clara will not be permitted to win more than one of these games.

A QUICK CAPTURE.

Constable Bernstein of Hanford Arrests a Horse Thief.

A. C. Brown, a horse thief, was captured yesterday morning as he was leaving a west side saloon. The thief stole a horse from a hitching rack in Hanford on Sunday night. The animal taken had a good record for speed and the owner, M. Dargs, at once set the officers actively in search of the thief.

Constable Harry Bernstein of Hanford came to Fresno and searched for the man and horse all Monday night. Early yesterday morning he discovered the stolen horse hitched in front of a saloon at the corner of Tulare and F streets. Officer W. S. Smith was called on to assist in the capture of the thief, who remained for some time in the saloon and then came out to mount the horse. The officers ordered Brown to hold up his hands and as they had the drop on him he promptly obeyed.

Brown was placed in the county jail until the arrival of the Valley road train at 10.30 and was then taken to Hanford to answer to the charge of grand larceny. Brown is known to the Fresno officers and went from this place two or three weeks ago to work in the vicinity of Hanford.

Monday night Fresno parties lost two horses, and the officers are now on the lookout for the thieves. A horse hitched near the Barton opera house and belonging to J. B. Hancock was stolen early in the evening. John Burns, residing in the west part of Fresno, also lost a horse during the night. It is thought that both the horses stolen in Fresno were taken by the same parties.

That Tired Feeling

Makes you seem "all broken up," without life, ambition, energy or appetite. It is often the forerunner of serious illness, or the accompaniment of nervous troubles. It is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. It's not so much what's in the ad, as what's behind the ad, that the public cares for. The fact that since our start in business every promise of every advertisement has been faithfully carried out—the fact that people have formed an intimate personal acquaintance with the business methods of this store had more to do with its phenomenal success than all the advertisements combined. You can always rely upon every word of our advertisements being true to the letter. We do as we advertise.

Charges Against the Bee Inspector.

The Supervisors Dismiss Them. Licenses Granted—Joke on Mr. Manly.

The supervisors were in session all day yesterday, devoting most of their time to examining bills.

The granting of the petition of W. A. Neville to improve Kearney avenue in front of the Paragon vineyard west of town was amended by adding the following to the motion: "All work performed by virtue of this order shall be done by direction of and to the satisfaction of the road commissioner of district No. 1."

The applications of the following for renewals of saloon licenses were granted: F. Roughuy, F. W. House, Francisco Goulart, Joe Sagnierre, Hunault & Ruchon, N. Tischer, Dennis Hennelly, Henry Schwartz, M. Muller, J. E. Wiley and Thompson & Copeland. The board did not deny any petition, but it gave the saloonkeepers to understand that they must keep their places orderly.

The contract and bond of Stephens & Bean and Cornwell & Long for burying the county dead were signed and approved by the chairman of the board.

Kate Plyler, an indigent, was allowed $10 a month.

In the matter of the investigation of charges against J. A. Roberts, the county bee inspector, testimony was heard and the board was satisfied that he had performed his duties in a satisfactory manner. The charges were accordingly dismissed.

W. H. Gilstrap of Caruthers made complaint to the supervisors that Roberts was not attending to his duties as he should. When Mr. Gilstrap appeared before the board yesterday he was unable to substantiate his allegations. Mr. Roberts had several bee-men on hand who testified that he was performing his work properly. It seems that the inspector was ill for a few weeks, during which time he was unable to make his rounds, and this gave rise to the complaint against him.

Supervisor Manly was the victim of a deeply laid conspiracy among the other members of the board yesterday, and they had much amusement at his expense. In the morning mail Supervisor Rose received a letter from Sarah St. Germain of Fowler, asking that her allowance from the county be increased from $5 to $10 a month. Mrs. Germain evidently knows how to reach the heart of a public official, and among other things she stated, "Mr. Rose, I know you are a good, sensible man." There were a number of other expression of a somewhat endearing kind, and the Supervisor was addressed as "kind gentleman, etc."

Mr. Manly, being a benedict, has been the butt of many a joke perpetrated by his fellow supervisors since his recent marriage, and Mr. Rose at once saw his way to play a good one on him. With the assistance of Clerk Johnson, Rose's name was erased wherever it appeared and that of Manly substituted. When the latter arrived at the office he found the letter addressed to him lying on his desk. It was opened, but Clerk Johnson quickly informed him that he (Johnson) had done this by mistake.

Supervisor Manly was completely deceived, and he wanted to refer the letter to Mr. Rose, in whose district Mrs. Germain resides. Manly remained in ignorance of the facts all day, and not till he reads the REPUBLICAN this morning will he know them. But the members of the board tormented him all day about the admiration the ladies entertain for him, etc. Chairman Sayre thought it a huge joke, and at every opportunity he would in his droll manner poke fun at Mr. Manly.

MINERS ACTIVE.

News From the North Fork Country.

A Stamp Mill is Needed—Many Good Prospects—Game Plentiful.

In the mountains on the North Fork road, sixty or seventy miles from Fresno, considerable mining has been done the past summer.

Ben Norris of the town of North Fork has gone over 200 feet into a vein that assays from $50 to $150 to the ton. He shipped some rock to Selby's, and it cost $69 a ton for assaying and freight expenses, and pay margin was left.

It is asserted by the quartz miners of the region that it would well pay a party or parties to erect a mill in the vicinity, and they say they will give 50 per cent of their ore to the mill owners.

Pete Simas also shows some fine rock, full of sulphurets, taken from his tunnel, and has a large amount of ore piled up near his mine. Phil Ralph has also a promising quartz claim, with considerable work already done.

These men have not the capital to erect a mill, and it is quite certain that, if one were built, both mill and mine owners would profit. Several persons have been engaged in placer mining in the same vicinity. All of them have paid expenses, and some have made a small profit this season, with better expectations.

Climatically the region is delightful, and the scenery is of all descriptions. On Keyser creek, near Cripps' claim, is a rocking stone. The boulder weighs between twenty and thirty tons, and a man can rock it back and forth with one hand. The San Joaquin and the Little San Joaquin and several forking creeks are plentifully stocked with trout. Mountain quail are also numerous. They are one-third larger than the valley quail. Some grouse are found, and once in awhile a deer or bear is shot, and the bears are of the amiable kind that prefer running to fighting. Frank Wheelock two weeks ago killed a deer and a bear.

J. H. Shields has just returned from a five months' sojourn in these mountains. He expects to return in the spring and work a placer claim in conjunction with some other parties.

NAILED AGAIN.

A Fresno Piano Dealer Trembles in His Shoes Until His Teeth Chatter.

Mr. J. A. Neu has not accepted our offer for a carload of pianos to be delivered to us in 20 days. He writes as follows: "To get them in 20 days would be an utter impossibility, one of the things dreamed of, but never realized, and no one knows this better than this crafty Oakland piano dealer himself, hence his gallery play with his check. Our experience has been in getting pianos direct from New York factories that if in 30 days from day of shipment they arrive in Fresno, it was a remarkably rapid transit.

"The time usually consumed is from 40 to 60 days." People of Fresno, merchants who get goods from New York, listen: Is Mr. Neu's statement true or false? Here you have it:

Fresno, Oct. 12.

MR. F. R. GIRARD—Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of even date, beg to say the average time made in carloads by Sunset Line is from 12 to 14 days from New York to Fresno.

Yours Truly,
S. F. BOOTH, S. P. R. R.

We have given Mr. Neu 20 days. We are also told by railroad authority that Mr. Neu does not get his stock from the East.

This will close our controversy; we believe that the intelligent people of Fresno understand this matter. Meanwhile we trust the people will compare our piano prices with his best $450 make. We exceedingly regret that we had to go into this newspaper controversy. We expect to close our sale in a few days. Anyone who wishes to buy a reliable piano at $285, easy terms, let them come.

Good Attendance in the City Schools.

Not Much Tardiness—Superintendent Dailey's Report. Manual Training.

Professor Dailey, the superintendent of the city schools, has compiled his report for the month ending October 8th, and the following is a summary of it:

High school—Total enrollment, 166; per cent of attendance, 98.2; number of cases of tardiness, 8.

Grammar school—Enrollment, 238; per cent of attendance, 98.4; tardy, 7.

K street building—Enrollment, 277; per cent of attendance, 97; tardy, 15.

Park Avenue building—Enrollment, 238; per cent of attendance, 97.6; tardy, 5.

C street building—Enrollment, 238; per cent of attendance, 97; tardy, 23.

Central building—Enrollment, 318; per cent of attendance, 96.7; tardy, 19.

Total enrollment, 1675; average per cent of attendance, 97.5; total number of cases of tardiness, 77.

The report is a very creditable showing for the Fresno schools. The small amount of tardiness, comparatively speaking, is especially commendable, and it indicates that the teachers are enforcing the regulations. For the same month last year the tardiness was much heavier. The high percentage of attendance is particularly gratifying, as it shows that the pupils are interested in their work. The district will also obtain a high apportionment of money from the state school funds, the division being based on the attendance at the schools.

On Monday the work in the manual training department was begun. The course was established just before the opening of school this term, but the necessary tools did not arrive here till last week. Professor W. A. Tenney is in charge of the new department, and he has about 150 pupils in his classes. He has commenced with instruction in the use of the plane. The scholars are taking much interest in the work, and good results in the new course will undoubtedly be attained.

The Sunset Limited.

The Sunset Limited, running between San Francisco and Chicago, will be started on October 18th for the season. The time between the two cities will be three days and seventeen hours. Two trains will be run each way every week. The east bound will leave Fresno Monday and Thursday nights at 11.10. The west bound will leave the raisin center at 4.30 a.m. on Saturdays and Wednesdays.

FROM PINE RIDGE

New Town to be Built at Dinkey.

Quartz Mining Received Quite an Impetus the Past Season.

Messrs. Kenyon & Jennings are planing and matching the lumber for their new hotel, having set up the machinery at their store, and will do custom work next season.

Mr. Ward & Sons are busy making brick, and are turning out an excellent article. They have several big orders and can compete with Fresno yards for the local trade.

Thomas Ockenden is busy fixing his lumber yard to stand the winter snows. Charles Baily has engaged to fill the position of clerk in his store.

The saw milling season is coming to a close. Pine Ridge has turned out its usual cut this season, with good profits to the mill men.

More mining and prospecting has been done in the mountains this summer than ever before. The quartz ledges, which heretofore have been ignored, have received the most attention this season and have proved to be profitable and bid fair to develop into an industry of great value to the county.

Parties are negotiating for the land at the sheep crossing on Dinkey creek. Their intention is to lay out a townsite, and next season will find the camp with a store, hotel, saloon and feed yard. The route to the big trees start from here, being four miles distant. It is intimated that Kenyon & Jennings will open a branch store in the new town.

Two thousand linear feet of pressure pipe has been freighted into the Yellow Button placer mine, owned by George W. Bennett & Company of San Francisco. They have a crew of men building a long ditch to carry water for the ten-inch monitor. This company was enjoined by W. W. Shipp, the case coming to trial last Saturday, but it was settled amicably, through the influence of a paternal society.

McMurtry & Rodman are running their arastra on good ore, with plenty more in sight.

Ritchie, Halbert & Company are developing their mine, the Chiepa. They also have the Rolland mine bonded. This is the mine that was a bone of contention last summer, resulting in a stabbing affair, and a shooting scrape was narrowly averted. At that time the mine was being worked under a sublease by Beard, Hannon & Higgins, they giving 25 per cent gross in the way of royalty. Some $600 was thus paid Rolland, but upon survey this spring the chute of ore they were working was found to be 300 feet off the Rolland mine. The mistake was discovered by Vol. Rolland, son of the owner, who located the vacant ground at once.

A big body of rich ore was uncovered in the Richmond, an extension of the Providence, last week.

Darby & Moore have built a water power arastra at the Hancock mine, and will be running in a few days.

A contract for 300 cords of wood is ready to be let at the Providence and Richmond mines.

A petition is being circulated to have the county extend the county road from Ockenden's into Dinkey. This is the name of the new town.

The sale of the Providence group is being negotiated. The price is said to be $22,000.

What is supposed to be a crosscut tunnel of the Exchequer quartz mine was run fifty feet without finding hanging wall. The ore from this ledge assays from $6 to $37 a ton.

Hawk & Burlingcourt have built a wagon road to their mine on Big creek.

The Doc Barnes and Slocum mines will open up soon.

SNOWSHOE.

"PUT UP OR SHUT UP."

"No Certified Check Nor the Coin Has Been Put Up by the Windy, Craft Oakland Piano Agent."

Our offer to furnish "Cable & Son" pianos from $135 to $165 stands good to any one, and if we fail to deliver them within a reasonable length of time you are entitled to our forfeit of $100 on each piano. Remember, we are not going away in a few days, but are permanent and here to stay. We cannot afford to make bluffs like the traveling, crafty Oakland piano peddler, and hence our offer is a bona fide one, and we are here to back it up.

Now, we will make this proposition to this crafty Oakland piano peddler: If he will put up $1620 in U. S. coin, or a certified check, in any local bank of Fresno, and give us a legal contract that he will take the twelve pianos, the $135 style, when they arrive here, and get us a bond from the Southern Pacific Railway Company that they will agree to land the twelve pianos here in fourteen days from date of shipment in New York, and allow us six days for mail to reach New York, making twenty days in all, we will deposit $1200 in a certified check, or gold coin, as a guarantee that we will fulfill our part of the contract. Now, the Fresno public will bear in mind that we are not trying to run a bluff on this crafty Oakland piano peddler, but are only too anxious to show him that we can supply all the "Cable & Son" pianos at a price from $135 to $165, according to style, and make the usual profit on them, notwithstanding that this Oakland bluffer has told the Fresno public that he was selling "Cable & Son" pianos at factory prices. We consider his child's play, in placing a check (which was not certified, and with a string to it) in the First National bank of this city, as a very "windy bluff," and we leave the public to judge of his sincerity in the matter.

In conclusion we will say let him "put up or shut up."

CHARGES ADULTERY.

Comes From Merced to Prosecute His Former Wife.

P. Pedroni of Merced is a man that cannot endure the thoughts of some other man enjoying the charms of his divorced wife. For this reason he appeared before Justice Austin recently and swore out warrants against Anna Mayarina, his former wife, and Mike Gilbert, charging them with adultery. The case came up before Justice Austin yesterday morning and will be submitted to the judge on briefs.

Pedroni's wife secured a divorce from him in May of this year and the ground of her complaint against him was cruelty. She was allowed the custody of five small children and came to Fresno. Her friend, Mike Gilbert, rented a house and otherwise provided for her support. Soon this friendship ripened into a stronger feeling and he proposed marriage to the woman. Anna, a bright-eyed Italian woman, looked favorably on his suit and gave her consent to the marriage. Then it was discovered that a marriage license could not be secured, as the law does not permit the marriage of a divorced person until the expiration of one year from the decree of divorce.

Gilbert continued to support the woman and her children and this coming to the knowledge of Pedroni he sought some means of revenge. Securing the services of a Merced attorney he came down to Fresno and had warrants issued with adultery as the charge.

All the principals in the case are Italians and are much excited over the outcome of the trial. In case of conviction the parties may be fined $1000 or confined in jail one year.

McKENZIE SUED.

The Canal Company's Action Brought Yesterday.

The Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company yesterday began suit against ex-City Treasurer W. H. McKenzie and J. G. James, his bondsman, for $1200, the amount of a warrant held by the plaintiff against the municipality for water furnished for flushing sewers in 1894.

The irrigation company and Alex McBean each had a judgment against the city, but there was only about $2400 in the fund that could be levied upon. The city trustees wanted to treat each litigant on terms of equality, and issued warrants to them, giving each about half of the money on hand.

Treasurer McKenzie refused to pay, and the canal company instituted a mandamus suit against him to collect the warrant. While this action was pending McKenzie's term of office expired, and before retiring he paid the whole amount of the fund in question to McBean. From the payee, however, the treasurer took a bond indemnifying himself. This merely changed the proceedings of the litigation, the canal company having to bring suit against Mr. McKenzie and his bondsmen, as it did yesterday. The mandamus suit was recently dismissed by Judge Webb.

OUR TORPEDO FLEET.

SIX CRACK LITTLE WARBOATS WITH A LONG CRUISE AHEAD.

Winter Maneuvers Will Work Them Gradually Southward—Details of the Cruise. Probable Purpose of Uncle Sam—Officers Claim They Are Merely at Practice.

The strangest fleet which ever sailed in the waters of the Atlantic is the American torpedo flotilla now cruising and ready for the order south in pursuance of the department's plan for the winter maneuvering.

It seems as if it were only a year or two ago that the United States had a torpedo fleet consisting of the old ram Alarm — "Porter's Folly" — and the wooden Stiletto. And even after our white squadron had become famous the almost indispensable torpedo boats were not provided.

Uncle Sam has, however, "come to his senses." Six splendid torpedo boats are now ready for service—the Cushing, Ericsson, Porter, Foote, Dupont and Rodgers. Two more are nearly completed—the Winslow and Rowan. Six more are half finished—the Davis, Fox, Talbot, Gwin, Mackenzie and the submarine boat Plunger—and work has been commenced upon the Dahlgren, Craven, Farragut, Morris and McKee.

Nineteen boats of the highest speed and greatest efficiency are therefore assured us, with a promise of many more to follow, and, since torpedo boat work requires special training, the navy department is making haste to prepare a force of officers and men for the work of manning the "mosquito fleet." The first flotilla has been designated as follows: Cushing, Lieutenant A. Gleaves commanding; Ericsson, Lieutenant N. K. Usher commanding; Porter, Lieutenant John C. Fremont commanding; Foote, Lieutenant W. L. Rodgers commanding; Dupont, Lieutenant S. S. Wood commanding, and Rodgers (unassigned, probably flagship). Lieutenant W. W. Kimball will act as admiral of the miniature fleet.

The combination of great names in the fleet will strike the least observing. Cushing, Gleaves, Porter, Foote, Usher, Rodgers, Dupont and Wood are all names famous in naval annals. There has been scarcely ever put together such a combination of swift, resistless machinery and brains, good American blood and scientific knowledge. Lieutenant Kimball is an expert in ordnance gunnery and torpedo work, and the government's confidence in his ability is shown by virtually making him an admiral, with powers given few admirals of squadrons.

Leaving New York—not in summer, observe, but in the season of cool weather and brisk gales—the long, narrow, greenish gray fliers dash out into blue water and disappear. Where they will next be seen is uncertain. No life insurance company would care to insure the lives of the hardy sailors. If no accident happens, they will reappear at Cape May, Hampton Roads, Charleston, Savannah or Key West. Lieutenant Kimball can take his fleet wherever he pleases provided he goes steadily southward, and the tactics of a flotilla in wartime are likely to be practiced.

When winter comes, the flotilla will be in the gulf of Mexico, conveniently close to Havana at just about the time when Weyler may "hear somethin drop." The north Atlantic squadron may also find it convenient to go to warmer latitudes at about that season, and if the flotilla happened to meet the squadron no one would be surprised and Spain would have no just cause for complaint. The programme of the cruise also includes a trip up the Mississippi, to give the 12,000,000 people in the valley a chance to see war vessels, and a return voyage to Hampton Roads next spring.

All this may be for "practice," and again it may not. Time alone will tell. With the tariff out of the way, an executive with backbone and a congress imbued with sturdy Americanism sitting, any number of things may happen next winter, and as the old wartime rebel used to say, "Victory goes to them as gits the mostest thar fustest."—New York Press.

The Future of the Red Man.

Having briefly reviewed some of our past history, the fact must be admitted that when the white men first visited our shores we were kind and confiding, standing before them like a block of marble before the sculptor, ready to be shaped into noble manhood. Instead of this, we were oftener hacked to pieces and destroyed.

It is useless to deny the charge that at times we have been goaded to vindictive and cruel acts. Some of my own tribe, however, were soldiers in the northern army during the civil war. Some of them were taken and held prisoners in the rebel prisons, and the cruelty which, according to the tales they tell, was witnessed there was never outdone in border warfare with the scalping knife and tomahawk, and yet I believe that had the northern people been placed in the south under like circumstances their prisoners of war would have been treated with similar cruelty. It was the result of a desperate effort to save an expiring cause. I believe there is no reasonable person, well grounded in United States history, who will not admit that there were ten times as many who perished miserably in southern prisons as have been killed by our people since the discovery of America. I recall these facts not to censure, but to show that cruelty and revenge are the offspring of war, not of race, and that nature has placed no impassable gulf between us and civilization.

While I most heartily indorse the present policy of the government in dealing with our people, I must admit, to be true to my own convictions, that I am worried over the ration system, under which so many of our people are being fed on the reservations. I greatly fear it may eventually vagabondize many of them beyond redemption. It permits the gathering of lazy, immoral white men of the worst stamp, who spend their time in idleness and in corrupting Indian morality.—Simon Pokagon in Forum.

Spiders as Weather Prophets.

One of the best of weather prophets is the spider. If there happens to be a web in the secluded corner of the porch, watch it carefully for a few days or weeks, and the spider will unfailingly predict the coming of storms.

When a high wind or a heavy rain threatens, the spider may be seen taking in sail with great energy—that is, shortening the rope filaments that sustain the web structure. If the storm is to be unusually severe or of long duration, the ropes are strengthened as well as shortened, the better to resist the onset of the elements. Not until pleasant weather is again close at hand will the ropes be lengthened as before. On the contrary, when you see the spider running out the slender filaments it is certain that calm, fine weather has set in, whose duration may be measured by their elongation.

Every 24 hours the spider makes some alteration in its web to suit the weather. If these changes are made toward evening, just before sunset, a fine, clear night may be safely counted upon. When the spider sits quiet and dull in the middle of its web, rain is not far off. If it be active, however, and continues so during a shower, then it will be of brief duration, and sunshine will follow.—Chicago Record.

Men With Memories.

The advantages of good memory to the historian are obvious, and we find it said of Gibbon that when he had once read a book it was of no further use to him; it was as a sucked orange and could be thrown away. Carlyle likewise had a prodigiously retentive mind, while of Macaulay's prowess in this line there are many stories told. He could read a book in the time it would take another man to cut the leaves, and, notwithstanding this lightning rapidity, he knew it all perfectly. Once, when crossing the Irish channel, he repeated to himself the whole of "Paradise Lost," and it was said that if all Milton's works were lost Macaulay could have restored them from memory. While waiting in a Cambridge coffee house for a post chaise he picked up a country newspaper containing two political pieces, which he read once through and never thought of again for 40 years, when he was able to repeat them without the change of a single word.—Household Words.

Unfortunate Omission.

One of the most singular instances of punishment for an oversight was that shown by the commitment of an almanac maker to the Bastille in 1717.

It was made out by order of the Duke of Orleans, regent during the minority of Louis V of France, and read as follows:

"Laurence d'Henry, for disrespect to King George I in not mentioning him in his almanac as king of Great Britain."

How long this unlucky almanac maker remained in prison is unknown. The register of the Bastille, examined at the time of the revolution, failed to throw any light on the subject.—Youth's Companion.

Zebra Culture.

On several South African farms experiments have been tried with Burchell's zebra. The zebras become as tame as ponies, and are readily broken in for draft work. The object of their tamers has been to breed a mule which, like the zebra, is proof against the tsetse fly. The zebras themselves run well enough in a mule team, though they cannot stand overdriving.—London Spectator.

How to Make a Fortune.

When old Zachariah Fox, the great merchant of Liverpool, was asked by what means he had contrived to realize so large a fortune as he possessed, his reply was:

"Friend, by one article, in which thou mayst deal, too, if thou pleasest—civility."—Golden Days.

Boats Carried on Men's Heads.

The achievement has often been referred to of the carrying of steamboats on the backs of men. The expression is not accurate, for the Congo natives are trained from infancy to carry burdens on their heads. When a European on the lower Congo sent his black boy to a store to buy some cigarettes, he was surprised to see the servant return with the tiny package on his head. When a Congo woman has smoked her much loved pipe, the treasure is likely to repose on her head until she again requires it, and if her husband, unfortunately, has been able to procure a bottle of rum, he walks home with it nicely balanced on his head, throwing stones at the stray dogs and cats in his way, without the slightest idea that he is really an expert equilibrist. Most of the many thousands of pieces of steamboats were carried on the heads and not on the backs of men.

The 50,000 natives of the lower Congo who have been carrying these steamboats and all other freight around the cataracts are the very men who could not be induced, 18 years ago, to give a helping hand to Mr. Stanley. He wished to carry 1,880 man loads and he had only 190 Zanzibar and Loango porters for the work. Some of the natives would sell him a little of their time, but they would not carry his goods more than two or three miles beyond their homes. Stanley's failure to secure the carriers he needed along the river delayed his work on the upper Congo for more than a year, and the labor question was the most perplexing problem with which he had to deal. He brought his carriers thousands of miles, from Zanzibar and other coasts of Africa.—Harper's Round Table.

Ancient Pueblo Builders.

The ancient pueblo builder, like his modern descendant, was so completely under the dominating influence of his geographic environment that from similar conditions he almost automatically worked out similar results. In the matter of a site for his home, however, he had some latitude, and the choice he made reflected something of the social conditions under which he lived. Thus it is probable that in the earliest times the people lived in small villages located on the edges of valleys or near the mouths of fertile flat bottomed canyons. They lived a quiet, peaceful existence, depending principally on the soil for the means of subsistence, but not despising the harvest of grass seeds and wild nuts which were at hand and glad to break the even, placid course of existence by periodical hunting expeditions to the neighboring mountains for deer and out into the great plains for buffalo.

In the course of time, however, other and more savage tribes came to the region, and these preyed upon the prior occupants of the country, who were industrious and provident and accumulated stores against possible bad seasons. It is doubtful whether there were any pitched battles or prolonged sieges, but the robbers made periodical forays through the fields when the crops were ready for the harvest or perhaps assaulted and looted some small village when the men were away.—Cosmos Mindeleff in Bulletin of American Geographical Society.

A Woman Matadore at Cordova.

Now comes the denouement, for upon a final flourish of trumpets the matadore, who in this particular performance was a woman, steps forth with a brighter red flag or cloak on a staff in her left hand and a good Toledan blade in her right, hidden beneath the right edge of the red flag. The bull makes a dash for the woman. Our ladies turn their heads and ask me what I see, and I report a calm, deliberate and skillful step to the left by the female matadore, a quick flash of the sword, a bend of the body to the right and over the bull's neck a spurting of blood, not very copious, and the sword has pierced the animal's neck close to the shoulder. The jugular is severed, the beast trembles, his knees give way, and he falls amid the applause of the audience at the skill of the swordswoman. Before the matadore proceeded to the slaughter she formally asked permission of the presiding alcalde to do the killing, and, upon his formal consent, proceeded with sword in hand to the front of the bull.—Baltimore Sun.

"Electricity

Is Life."

TWENTY thousand people in the United States have been cured within the past ten years by Dr. Sanden's famous Electric Belt. It has taken the place of drugs. It saturates the body for several hours at a time with the electric fluid, giving strength to all weak parts of the body and curing disease. Rheumatism cannot exist when Dr. Sanden's Belt is worn. It cures all forms of Nervous Complaints, Kidney and Stomach Troubles, Lame Back, Sciatica, Varicocele and the many ailments arising from weakness and sluggish action of the blood and vital parts. It is warranted to generate a strong current of Electricity that can be felt by the wearer as soon as it touches the body. It has a patented regulator, and is warranted for one year. It is worn mostly at night, and many diseases are cured with one night's use. The worst cases of Nervous Debility are cured in from 30 to 60 days. If you are tired of drugging try this wonderful Belt and you will suffer no more.

Send for Dr. Sanden's famous book "Three Classes of Men," with full information and price list, and hundreds of testimonials from every State in the Union. It is sent closely sealed, free upon application. Address

Summons.

No. 7980. Dept. No. 2.

In the Superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California.

The Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company (a corporation), plaintiff, vs. Adeline B. Park, William Park, her husband, the San Francisco Savings Union (a corporation), John Doe, Richard Roe, Jane Doe and Mary Roe, defendants.

Action brought in the Superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the clerk of said county of Fresno, state of California.

The people of the state of California send greeting to Adeline B. Park, William Park, her husband, the San Francisco Savings Union (a corporation), John Doe; Richard Roe, Jane Doe and Mary Roe, defendants.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO APpear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

Said action is brought to obtain a judgment of this court against the said defendants, Adeline B. Park and William Park, her husband, for the sum of $1,075, with interest on the sum of $258.75 thereof, at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the first Monday in September, 1894; and on the further sum of $258.75 thereof, at the said rate of interest from the first Monday in September, 1895; and on the further sum of $258.75 thereof, at the said rate of interest from the first Monday in September, 1896; and interest on the remaining sum of $258.75 thereof, at the said rate from the first Monday in September, 1897; for $50 attorney's fees, and for costs of suit, for and on account of a certain water right contract located upon the premises described in the said complaint and hereinafter, the same being situate in the said county of Fresno, state of California, and particularly described as follows, to-wit: The northeast quarter of the southeast quarter, the west half of the southeast quarter, the north three-quarters of the east half of the southwest quarter, the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter, and the west half of the southwest quarter of section twenty-three (23), and the southeast quarter of section twenty-seven (27), all in township thirteen (13) south, range nineteen (19) east, of Mount Diablo meridian.

Plaintiff also prays that it be adjudged to have a lien upon said premises for the payment of the aforesaid sums; that the same be sold according to law and the practice of this court and the proceeds applied to the payment thereof; and plaintiff further alleges that the defendants herein other than said Park and wife have or claim to have some interest in or claim upon said premises, but that the same is subsequent and subject to the said claim and lien of the plaintiff, all of which more fully appears by plaintiff's complaint on file in said action, a true and correct copy whereof is hereto attached and herewith served, and the same is hereby referred to and made a part of this summons, and you are referred to the same for further particulars.

And you are hereby notified that unless you so appear and answer the said complaint as above required, plaintiff will cause your default to be duly entered and take judgment against you for the said sum of $1,075, for $200 attorney's fees, interest as alleged to be due in the said complaint, and costs of suit, the amount demanded in the complaint herein as arising upon said water right, contract or agreement, and will apply to the court for the other relief demanded in the said complaint.

A SECRET.

Sunk deep in a sea,
A sea of the dead,
Lies a book that shall be
Never opened or read.

Its silky fine pages
A secret inclose—
The flower of the ages,
A rose, a red rose.

That sea of the dead
Is my soul, and the book
Is my heart, and the red
Rose the love you forsook.
—Julian Hawthorne in Lippincott's.

A DAY OF ROSES.

A scent of roses made Aylmer think of something that was over long ago and that he had almost forgotten. The roses were everywhere in the drawing room he had just entered. They stood in jars on the mantelpiece. Flat bowls held them on tables, and singly in slender vases they were to be seen here and there among the china and the odds and ends of silver and enamel, and delft and marble that filled the dainty room.

Audrey had loved roses. There was one day in the little cottage under the beech trees where Aylmer had spent many an hour that seemed of a sudden passing happy now—one day which he and she had called the day of roses. He had only to shut his eyes—indeed, had not to shut them—to see again the flower strewn room. It was Audrey's birthday, and he had brought her roses. They were in the hamper first in which they had been packed. Ah, Audrey's little cry of delight as she raised the lid and saw them lying softly among their damp leaves! Then they were on trays, two big trays that yet would not hold them, and they overflowed on to the table, where, with their foliage, they lay, a litter of crimson and yellow and green, over which, with caressing touch, leaned Audrey, the sweetest flower of all. He could see her gather up a handful and bury her face amid the petals that were scarcely more delicate than herself. Then there was the seeking of things in which to put them. Every suitable vase and jar and pot the cottage contained was requisitioned, and there were still roses. He had been reminded vaguely of the woman of the sons of the prophets—without calling her all that—and the miraculous pot of oil, for, as with her: "It came to pass when the vessels were full that she said * * * Bring me yet a vessel." And there was no vessel found. Four roses remained over. One of them he must wear. He chose the smallest, an opening bud. The other three Audrey, kissing them first, put into the girdle at her waist.

That was the day of roses, and Aylmer, back from his two years' travel, had forgotten it till a chance scent recalled it and the idyl that had been an incident among incidents in a somewhat thoughtless life.

But he was dreaming, and here was Diana. She came in with an apology and a rustle of silk. She was grieved to have kept him waiting. She put up her face to be kissed; the first time of his dining with her, and not to be there to receive him! But it was inexcusable—inexcusable. She had had an afternoon of delays—just that; delays everywhere. First the tiresome lawyer people, and then the trustees, and at the last moment a young woman from Antoinette's about her trousseau. What a business marriage was, and the fact of having been through it before did not ease matters at all!

Complicated them, Aylmer suggested.

Complicated them, she agreed.

"I'm giving you a lot of trouble, I'm afraid," he said smiling.

There was to be no sentiment in this marriage. Diana had "gold and green forests." Aylmer had spent his gold, and the potential cutting of certain timber at Aylmer's Keep had brought about the engagement. Lady Aylmer had perhaps a hand in the matter, when she asked the comely widow of Fontenbrink Granton of Broad street to the Keep to meet her son.

"All that will have to go," she said one day to Mrs. Granton, and waved her hand toward a wood on the hill.

Mrs. Granton raised her eyebrows.

A day or two later, driving through the wood in question, Mrs. Granton observed a couple of men with notebooks and pencils who saluted the Aylmer carriage as it passed, and she observed Aylmer's face, too, as he returned their salute with a wave of his whip.

Lady Aylmer caught—perhaps sought—her eye and sighed.

That evening Mrs. Granton was the first to come down from dressing, and she strolled out on to the terrace. The sun, setting behind her, shone upon the doomed woods. Gold steeped them. The shorn hill would be an eyesore.

She heard a step on the gravel, and saw Aylmer approaching from the house.

"The prettiest view in England," she said.

He came and stood beside her, and the eyes of each were on the woods.

"I am told you are going to spoil it," she said then.

"For a time."

"A lifetime."

The lady's gaze ascended the hill to the top where the trees stood up against the sky.

"It seems a pity," she said, and said no more just then.

The gong sounded presently, and they went in. You could see the shining hill from the windows of the dining room. Midway through dinner, as the evening closed in, a servant went to draw the curtains. Mrs. Granton faced the window.

"Oh," she said to Lady Aylmer, "might he wait a little? It is all so beautiful from where I sit."

Lady Aylmer turned and looked, and Aylmer looked too. In truth, the scene was too fair to shut out.

"Leave the curtains as they are, Charles."

"Very good, my lady."

So Mrs. Granton saw the woods to the disappearing point of dusk.

But later the moon rose. Aylmer and she found themselves upon the terrace once more. The night was warm. Mrs. Granton's eyes were on the woods. Their changed aspect in the moonlight was excuse itself for any comment.

"Must you?" she asked suddenly.

He looked for her meaning.

"I!" he said. "I! It is not I."

"Who then? Ah, yes, I understand. They are mortgaged."

Foreclosure was a word she associated with poor plays. Such things happened then! She remembered the two men with the businesslike air and the notebooks.

She laid her arm on the stone ledge of the balustrade.

"There must be a way out," she said. "If I could find it."

An hour or two later, when she took her candle from his hand, she said:

"Look for the way out."

She smiled, and he followed her with his eyes as she mounted the stairs, her skirts trailing and the candle held high. She did not look back at the turn in the staircase. Aylmer, in the smoking room, was ruminant.

It was impossible to mistake her.

Nor did he misunderstand. She said "Yes" when he spoke the next day.

Lady Aylmer said, "Diana, Diana, dear woman, God bless you!"

"Perhaps he will," said Diana.

Now, in her drawing room, the woods saved and his future mortgaged instead, Aylmer took a rapid survey of his life up to the point it had then reached and decided that he had pursued the only course open to him. Neither did he in calmness repent the step he had taken. Diana Granton had not her money alone to recommend her. She was of the world and admirably fitted for the position he offered her. That she was comely has been said, and she took a sensible view of the situation. He was not in love with her, and she was wise enough to conceal from him the secret that her own heart had been revealing to her gradually for some time past.

At dinner that evening she looked at him and knew that she loved him. He looked at Diana and thought of forgotten Audrey.

It was the fault of the roses in the drawing room.

The scent of them haunted him—followed him home. Poor little Audrey! What would she think? But near as he had come to loving her, he had never made love to her and had nothing to reproach himself with, for which now he was fervently thankful. Yet he was not quite happy as his hansom took him to Clarges street. A memory of something that was wistful at times in Audrey's eyes stirred him. The thing was absurd, inconceivable. Her mother, gentle as she was, was a woman of the world and had known that he "meant" nothing. Audrey was a child to caress and pet. It was he who had suffered at the parting. Her tears were the frank tears of childhood and rolled down her cheeks unconcealed.

His misgivings told him that he had done well to go.

He thought of the restlessness that had possessed him during the early days of his travel. It had sent him from place to place. He had written a letter then that was never posted, and had refrained himself until time and distance allowed him to write calmly. Presently the need to write at all ceased and he knew himself cured.

But tonight Audrey haunted him. He could be thankful that he had not made a fool of himself. The girl was not of his world, and he knew the folly of an ill assorted marriage, but she had been very dear to him.

How fair she was! Her face insinuated itself persistently between him and sleep. She must be grown up now—yes, Audrey must be 19. The curves of her slender figure would be rounded and many subtle changes mark the time that had seen the crossing of the border line of womanhood, but she would be the same Audrey that he had known and had been so near to loving.

It was late before he slept. Then Audrey came to him in dreams that had no definite shape. He tried vainly afterward to remember in what guise and to what accompanying circumstances she had appeared to him. He only knew that she had been with him, sleeping as waking, through the night.

The air and the light of day, however, cleared his brain. He spent a morning with Diana, and by the time she was sitting opposite to him at lunch he could view the situation calmly and see that his happiness lay in the direction he was taking. Nor was he consciously selfish.

He parted with Diana and walked homeward. It was a time of roses. The roses in a flower shop caught his attention. They filled the window.

He found himself in the shop. He had been attracted by red roses, yet in the end it was white roses he chose. He believed that he made his choice by hazard, though now he sometimes wonders. It may be that some thought of Audrey's nature influenced him.

He took out a card and paused. What to say? His love? He hesitated and wrote, "For auld lang syne." Then he gave his directions as to the sending and left the shop.

Three days later a letter reached him.

He opened it carelessly, not recognizing the handwriting. His fingers tightened suddenly upon the sheet.

"I put your roses on her heart," wrote her mother, "loose, as they came. She would have loved them so."—Lady's Realm.

The Opposite.

Grant Duff has in his reminiscences the following story of Lord Houghton: The Cosmopolitan club was accustomed to meet in a room which had been Watts' studio, and on the walls of which hung an enormous picture by him of "Theodora and Honoria." Some one asked Lord Houghton what this represented. "Oh," he replied, "you have heard of Watts' hymns? These are Watts' hers."

THE CIVIL WAR.

Some Facts For Folks Who Are Not Sure When It Ended.

Many people think Appomattox marked the end of the war, as Sumter did its beginning. As a matter of fact the war did not end officially until Aug. 20, 1866, when President Johnson issued a proclamation announcing that war was at an end and that peace, order and tranquillity and civil authority existed in all the states. While Lee's surrender was not the end of the war, it was the beginning of the end. Johnston surrendered on April 26, Dick Taylor on May 4 and Kirby Smith not until May 26. On May 13, more than a month after Lee's surrender, a sharp fight took place at Palmetto Ranch, in Texas, which is called by Jefferson Davis and other authorities the last battle of the war. The commander of the Union troops, mostly colored, says in his report:

"The last volley of the war, it is believed, was fired by the Sixty-second United States Colored infantry, about sunset on May 13, 1865, between White's ranch and the Boca Chica, Texas." In this fight, which took place on the American side of the Rio Grande river, the Mexican Imperialists sent over a body of cavalry, which aided the Confederates in their last and successful attack. On June 13 Tennessee was declared at peace; June 23 the blockade was raised; July 23 Grant made his last official report; April 2, 1866, proclamation that Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida were tranquil was issued by the president; Aug. 20, 1866, war was officially declared ended. The latter date was in 1867 fixed by congress as the official and legal date of the close of the war.—New York World.

A New England Fort's Stolen Cannon.

A long time ago Fort Fairfield felt the need of a cannon in its business. So a determined band went up to Fort Kent with the wicked notion of stealing a cannon from the warlike dwellers in that frontier town. The Fort Kent folks were waiting for 'em with guns cocked and primed, but in some remarkably slick way the Fort Fairfield crowd slipped in and got away with the cannon. On the way down to St. John the boat containing the cannon was overturned and the ordnance was dumped into the river. But, not a whit dismayed, the brave little band groped around, hooked on to the piece and finally lugged it in triumph into Fort Fairfield. Then a Fort Kent company went to Fort Fairfield to retake the cannon, but they couldn't find the piece and marched back again. Since then the cannon has been kept carefully secreted. On festive occasions it is brought out to bark, and then is again hurried away into retirement.—Bangor Commercial.

A Queer Queen.

A captain in a regiment stationed in Natal, when paying his company one day, chanced to give a man a Transvaal half crown, which, as one would naturally expect, bears "the image and superscription" of President Kruger.

The man brought it back to the pay table and said to the captain, "Please, sir, you've given me a bad half crown."

The officer took the coin, and, without looking at it, rang it on the table and then remarked: "It sounds all right, Bagster. What's wrong with it?"

"You luke at it, sir," was the reply.

The captain glanced at the coin, saying: "It's all right, man. It will pass in the canteen."

This apparently satisfied Bagster, who walked off, making the remark, "If you say it's a' right, sir, it is a' right, but it's the first time I've seed the queen wi' whiskers on."—London Answers.

Victoria's Chief Butler.

The salary of Queen Victoria's chief butler, who looks after the beer, wines, and spirits, is £500 a year. This functionary must have a palate of exquisite delicacy, as in him is vested the purchase of the wines drunk by royalty. He is also expected to superintend the decanting of the wines, which he accompanies to the royal table with an air of affectionate solicitude and sees that they are partaken of at the proper moment. The present holder of the office is said to be the finest judge of Rhine wines in the world. Her majesty's chief butler is also responsible for the laying of the table, the actual work being performed by two principal table deckers, with £200 a year each.—Strand Magazine.

Just Like Him.

The Rev. Walter Colton, author of "Ship and Shore" and other books, gave a most forcible illustration of the character of an officer on board the ship to which he was attached as chaplain.

The officer was always meddling with other people's business and was seldom in his own place. Consequently he was most unpopular with the sailors.

One of them, goaded to unusual irritation, said one day, "I do believe that at the general resurrection the lieutenant will be found getting out of somebody else's grave."

Just Do It.

Evadne, after failing many times to reach a desired goal, arrives at this conclusion: "Just do a thing and don't talk about it. This is the great secret of success in all enterprises. Talk means discussion, discussion means irritation, irritation means opposition, and opposition means hindrance always, whether you are right or wrong."—"Heavenly Twins."

The oldest lock in existence is the one which formerly secured one of the doors of Nineveh. It is a gigantic affair, and the key to it is nearly 3½ feet in length and of the thickness of a four inch drain tile.

The Bookkeeper's Bete Noire.

Ask a bookkeeper what his "black beast" is, and he will tell you the monthly trial balance. Some of you know what that is, of course, but the majority of you perhaps do not. Let us explain briefly. In double entry bookkeeping, the only kind that deserves the name of bookkeeping, every debit must have its credit—that is to say, every item that is carried to the debit of one account must be carried to the credit of another.

Say, for example, you buy a bill of goods from a merchant. He enters the amount to your debit on his books and at the same time credits an account called "merchandise," this account being debited with all the goods brought into the stock and credited with all the goods sold from it. When you pay the bill, you are credited with the amount, and an account called "cash" is debited, because it receives the money.

This will explain to the uninitiated the meaning of the term "double entry," and it will also explain why, after the entries have all been carried to the ledger and balances have been struck thereon, the debits and the credits will agree if the books have been correctly kept. To test the correctness of his work the bookkeeper takes off every month a trial balance, which consists simply of the debit balances in one column and the credit balances in another. If they foot up the same, the work has been correctly done. If they vary, he must look for and find the error or errors before the next month's business is entered on the ledger.

You can readily understand, therefore, why the trial balance is the bookkeeper's "black beast." We have known cases in which trifling errors have eluded the most careful search for several days and nights and even for weeks, torturing the soul of the bookkeeper almost past endurance. But he has to stand it, for the error must be found.—Philadelphia Times.

Do Metals Become Tired?

Various instances are on record where metals, while not showing any appreciable wear, have literally fallen to pieces, and that without any assigned cause. On one occasion a steel rail, after 22 years' continuous service on the Great Northern railway, in England, actually disintegrated under the wheels of a passing train. So complete was the breaking up that scientists thought it worthy of investigation, during which it was determined that the metal had become exhausted and had broken down, just as an overstrained animal might be expected to do. This has led to further inquiry, and scientists are satisfied that metals do become tired out. Fine cracks often appear in steel rails, and it has been supposed that they are caused by the continuous concussion of railway wheels. This, however, seems to be contradicted by the examination of newly made rails, in which similar fine lines occur. The idea that metals become weary, while not altogether a new one, is to an extent a plausible one and under the careful scrutiny of scientific societies will probably be satisfactorily explained and settled.—New York Ledger.

How to Use Blotting Paper.

"It is curious about blotting paper," said Mr. Dipperton, "that it lasts longer if used on one side only. I refer now to the small piece of blotting paper that we pick up and press upon the freshly written lines by rubbing it with the finger tips. Continual rubbing makes the side that is rubbed upon smooth and oily and less absorbent. If we turn the blotter over now and then and get a fresh surface and rub indifferently on either side, we soon get both sides more or less oily, and then it doesn't blot perfectly on either side. It is better to use it always the same side down, so that whatever moisture may be transferred from the finger tips is kept all on one side. Thus used, the blotter will take up ink more satisfactorily and for a longer time than it would if we kept turning it over."—Atlanta Constitution.

Uses of Science.

"The wretch," cried the girl, "kissed me!"

"Surely," they exclaimed, exchanging glances of alarm, "you must be mistaken."

She shivered affrightedly.

"No," she said, "I cannot be mistaken. The microscope revealed the characteristic bacillus."

She had had her doubts in the beginning, but a bacteriological examination had discovered beyond the possibility of cavil that she had been kissed.—London Fun.

Courts of Love.

"Courts of love" were established in the middle ages, when chivalry was at its height and love the serious occupation of life among the higher class of society. The first "court of love" was established in the south of France in the twelfth century and was composed of knights, poets and ladies, and their decisions on subtle questions connected with affairs of the heart were given with great formality.

Brittany Marriage Custom.

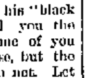

In Brittany there is said to prevail a curious marriage custom. On certain fete days the young ladies appear in red petticoats, with white or yellow borders around them. The number of borders denotes the portion the father is willing to give his daughter. Each white band denotes silver—100 francs per annum; each yellow band represents gold—1,000 francs a year.

Mountain Ranges.

The long, undulating folds in which the Appalachians were produced when first thrown up are characteristic of mountain ranges the world over. The Alps, the Pyrenees, the Caucasus, Himalayas, Andes and Rockies are built in just that way. They are enormously thick beds or masses, and they are all ridged up into these folds.

The California Savings and Loan Society, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. J. P. Koch, Robert Mack, E. B. Perrin, D. J. Guggenhime, E. M. Stieljes, Frank H. Short, C. H. Williams, Sarah A. Williams, The Fresno Land Company, a corporation, John D[oe] and Mary Roe, defendants.

Action brought in the superior court of the county of Fresno, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the clerk of said county. J. F. Cowdery, attorney for plaintiff.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIfornia send greeting to J. P. Koch, Robert Mack, E. B. Perrin, D. J. Guggenhime, E. M. Stieljes, Frank H. Short, C. H. Williams, Sarah A. Williams, The Fresno Land Company, a corporation, John Doe and Mary Roe, defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the superior court of the county of Fresno, State of California, to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days, exclusive of the day of service, after the service on you of this summons if served within this county, or if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this court for foreclosure of a mortgage, described in said complaint, made, executed and delivered, by said defendants, J. P. Koch and Robert Mack, to said defendant, E. B. Perrin and one J. B. Randol, on the 9th day of December, 1890, to secure payment of a promissory note of same date described in said mortgage and complaint, made, executed and delivered by said defendants, Koch and Mack, to said defendant, Perrin and said Randol, payable four years after date, for the sum of $13,000.00 with interest at the rate of seven—7—per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually, and if not so paid to be compounded.

That said mortgage was recorded in Recorder's office, Fresno county, in Vol. 75 of mortgages, page 322, et seq., and affects that certain real property, situated in Fresno county, State of California, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots 212, 213, 214, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 143, 144, 147, 159, 110, 148, east ½ of 193, 205, 206, 207, 208, 201, east ½ of 183, east ½ of 184, containing together about four hundred and ten—410—acres as laid down and designated on the map thereof, entitled, map of Perrin Colony No. 2, which map was filed for record in the office of the county recorder of said Fresno county, on the eight—8—day of October, 1890, and is hereby referred to for further or more description.

Plaintiff alleges that on December 27th, 1890, said Randol, assigned all of his interest in said note and mortgage to said defendant Perrin and thereupon said defendant Perrin, assigned said note and mortgage to plaintiff herein, who is still the holder and owner of said promissory note and mortgage.

That at the request of defendant E. B. Perrin, and defendants J. P. Koch and Robert Mack, plaintiff released the west half of number two hundred and thirteen, all of lots (201, 207, 208, 143, 181) two hundred and one, two hundred and seven, two hundred and eight, one hundred and forty-three, and one hundred and eighty-one, have been released from the operation of said mortgage.

Plaintiff alleges that there is now due and unpaid on said promissory note and mortgage to plaintiff, the sum of $13,000.00 with interest thereon from December 9th, 1890, at the rate of seven—7—per cent per annum, all in gold coin of the United States.

Plaintiff further alleges that the value of the property described in said mortgage is not sufficient to discharge the amounts due to the plaintiff upon said promissory note and that said property produces an income from rents which should be equitably applied in satisfaction of said debt; and that it is necessary, in order to protect the plaintiff, that a receiver of said property should be appointed in this action to collect the said rents and to apply them as this court may direct by its decree in this action.

Plaintiff prays for judgment against defendants J. P. Koch and Robert Mack, for $13,000.00 in gold coin and interest thereon at seven—7—per cent per annum from December 9th, 1890.

That a receiver be appointed by the court in this action upon the filing of the complaint, or at any time thereafter upon plaintiff's motion to take possession of said premises, and to receive the rents, issues and profits thereof, and to apply them as this court by its final decree may direct.

That the usual decree be made for the sale of said mortgaged property for gold coin of the United States by a commissioner appointed by this court, according to law and the practice of this court; that the proceeds of said sale be applied to the expense of such sale, and to the payment of the judgment in this action; that all of said defendants and all persons claiming from or under them or from or under either of them subsequent to the execution and recording of said mortgage as aforesaid, be barred and forever foreclosed of and from all right, claim or equity of redemption in said described mortgaged real property, and every part and parcel thereof.

That the plaintiff or any other party to this action may become the purchaser at said sale. That a proper and sufficient deed of conveyance of said real property when so sold be executed to the purchaser, and that said purchaser be let into the possession of such real property and for judgment against the makers of said note for any deficiency. And for such other and further relief in the premises as shall appear to be meet and agreeable to equity, as will more fully appear by reference to said complaint.

And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint as above required, said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, this 11th day of December, 1896.
